

Dear Students,

Just because school is out doesn't mean we should stop learning...and summer is an excellent time to start a new adventure in reading. To encourage you to continue reading during the summer, I'm asking you to take the Mayor's Summer Reading Challenge.

I'm challenging all students to read 10 books this summer. When you have completed the challenge, you will receive an official Mayoral Excellence in Reading Certificate. Just fill out this form and return it to me by August 31, 2015 with a list of the 10 books you have read. Along with your certificate, I will send you a coupon for a free book from your nearest City library. For more information, visit www.cityofrochester.gov/summerreadingchallenge.

Be sure to visit your local public library for a limitless supply of books. Whether you like chapter books, novels, biographies or even graphic novels, the possibilities are endless. Not sure where to start? Ask a librarian to suggest a book that will keep you turning the pages all summer long!

Thank you and happy reading!

Mayor Lovely A. Warren
